Press Release

Contractor's Organization Inducts 2011 President

On December 9, 2010, the Associated General Contractors of NH (AGC of NH) named Michael Reilly of Brox Industries, Inc. its 2011 President at the Association's 61st Annual Meeting at the Castleton in Windham, NH. 2010 AGC of NH President Doug Butler of Gilbane Building Company passed Michael Reilly the presidential gavel during the evening's induction ceremony, formally announcing his new position.

As the newly elected President, Reilly thanked the members for allowing him the opportunity to serve as AGC of NH's next president. Reilly remarked that the commercial construction industry has been a part of his life for his entire life. He went on to say that because of the connection, he feels it is important to give back to associations such as AGC of NH that support the industry. He encouraged members to support the Association through donations of their time and active participation in strengthening the Association.

Reilly serves as a Division Manager at Brox Industries, Inc., and has been a member of the AGC of NH Board of Directors for nine years.

###

AGC of NH's membership includes contractors from both the building and highway industry, which perform commercial and industrial, public and private work in the state. AGC of NH serves as a liaison between its membership and government bodies, provides informational support services, safety training, construction documents, and plans room facilities for the construction industry.
